6 minutes. Action Comedy.

Production Dates: October 24-25, 2014

SYNOPSIS ONELINER:

A kid goes on a mission to rescue his favorite action figure from a bully's house.

JACK (12): A sixth grader who still plays with toys. His most prized possession is a limited edition action figure of the hero from his favorite spy movies; Bruce Jones. Although he doesn't realize it yet, he has a bit of growing up to do. When Bruce Jones is kidnapped by Calvin the local bully, Jack, with the help of his best friend Nick, takes on a risky mission to save him, and it will change the way he looks at Calvin.

NICK (12): Jack's best friend of the same age. Nick is obsessed with military tactics and gear, although he is not very good at making his own. He has a huge arsenal of spy/military toy gadgets and helps Jack on his mission, even though he thinks he's gone completely crazy.

CALVIN (15): An 8th grader, a little too old for his grade due to being held back. He's not the brightest bulb, but he's the meanest and the scariest one. But under all his bullying is a huge secret that he'd do anything to keep from going public. Little does he know, that secret is on the line.
