SUMMARY:

The story follows Berkley, a goofy and quirky guy who is a true kid at heart. He works with Mike, an overly professional guy who is all about perfection. Together they have to rob a house and retrieve a Diamond Necklace. Berkley, who keeps eating Cinnamon Rolls, finds himself on the toilet minutes into the robbery. When the family arrives home early, Mike leaves Berkley behind to find his own way out. During his exit though, he comes face to face with the family's 5-year-old son, Billy, who believes he is a police officer, in uniform and all. The ultimate showdown begins.

BERKLEY (ages 25-35)

Goofy and Childish character who really tries to be good at things, but never seems to be in the right place at the right time. Not only does no one believe in him, but Berkley has stopped believing in himself. He's always about FUN, even if it's the wrong place and time.

MIKE (ages 30-45)

Stern and Slightly Aggressive man; He is all about perfection, and succeeding at all costs. He has been a professional robber for some years, and is just agitated by the idea of having to work with somebody like Berkley, even once. He only believes in himself, until he's wrong.

BILLY (ages 4-7)

For Billy, Halloween is year round. He's recently received the full police costume, and he hasn't taken it off since. He spends his days lurking the halls and backyard for someone to apprehend. Today is the day he gets to prove himself when he catches Berkley dead in his tracks.

MR. EDWARDS (ages 35-55)

Bigger Italian man who could be straight out of "The Godfather". His adult views have made him very boring to Billy. He refuses to let anybody be a child, but on the inside, is simply a kid himself. He fights to keep that deep inside him, and only his anger comes through on the surface.

MRS. EDWARDS (ages 28-40)

Kind and Gentle when her husband is not controlling her; She loves her son, but stands by Mr. Edwards with his believe that everyone needs to grow up fast. She gives into Billy occasionally, but is more distant than she should be.
